

2 DAYS AS/EN9100 REV C TRAINING

DQS Certification (M) Sdn. Bhd. is organizing a 2 Days AS/EN9100 REV C public training in this coming May 2009.

Course objectives

To equip participants with the required awareness, understanding and knowledge of the AS/EN 9100 Rev C standard and other related standards.

Who should attend

Quality personnel and management of companies dealing with the aerospace industry and interested parties of the AS/EN 9100. The participants should have an understanding of the requirements of ISO 9001 before entering this training

Course content

This training helps attendees to understand the necessary background to develop, implement audit and certify an internal quality system that meets the additional aerospace requirements of AS/EN9100, in addition to ISO9001.

This training is focused on:

- the aerospace requirements of AS/EN9100 series, that come in addition to ISO 9001: 2008
- the tools used for audits
- the relation between AS/EN9100 and other aerospace regulations/standards
- the supplier aerospace certification scheme and the related OASIS database
- the other aerospace standards as developed by IAQG

Major additions in AS/EN9100 are linked with:

- special requirements/critical items
- configuration management
- risk management
- project management
- on-time delivery
- design control and verification/testing
- purchasing
- control of Production and Service Provision
- monitoring and measurement of processes and products
- control of non-conforming product

Who will deliver the training

Mr. Hans Luijt, who has more than 30 years of experience in the aerospace industry.

Mr. Hans Luijt was in Fokker Aircraft for 22 years and is former Director Operations for ASD-EASE (Association for European Aerospace Supplier Evaluation), QA manager for small aerospace component manufacturers, former Secretary of the EAQG Other Party Management Team for the Aerospace Supplier Certification Scheme, IAQG co-ordinator for the OASIS database on aerospace supplier certification, Member of the IAQG 9100 QMS standard writing team and Chair of the IAQG 9101/9111/9121 (audit standards) writing team.
